

You are invited to: A New Faculty Workshop An Introduction To Sakai

Sakai at The Claremont Colleges

Welcome to Sakai at The Claremont Colleges - a course management and collaborative learning tool. This system serves faculty, staff and students of all seven Claremont Colleges and the Claremont University Consortium.

Sakai provides an online platform to support teaching and learning, ad hoc group collaboration, and research collaboration. It is a free and open source product that is built and maintained by the Sakai community.

The Claremont Colleges

How will I benefit from attending the workshop?

By the end of this workshop, you will have an introduction to commonly used tools in Sakai and a knowledge of how to use those tools in conjunction with your course materials.

You can also get a head start building your Sakai Course...

You are encouraged to bring course materials with you on CD or a flash drive to start building your course site.

Who is the workshop instructor?

Benjamin Royas: Instructional Technology Specialist

When:

Option 1: 9:30 am to 11:30 am, Thursday, August 20, 2009

Option 2: 1:30 pm to 3:30 pm, Thursday, August 20, 2009

Option 3: 9:30 am to 11:30 am, Friday, August 21, 2009

Option 4: 1:30 pm to 3:30 pm, Friday, August 21, 2009

Where:

Roberts North 12

Registration Contact:

Benjamin Royas | (909) 607-8647 | broyas@cmc.edu

Faculty Stipend!

Each faculty member will receive a $50 stipend for their participation in this workshop.

CLAREMONT
MCKENNA COLLEGE

Instructional Technology and Client Services

Robert South 012

Phone: (909) 607-0911